

From Bethlehem to Chicago to the world...

Merry Christmas

From
The Kasters

Greetings from Chicago!

We are all well. Jess is 16 but not quite driving yet. She's got a pile of friends in the 11th grade and loves serving on the chapel-planning committee. And Calvin College is around the corner!

At age 13. Nate's taller than Deb and gaining fast on Dad. He ran cross country this fall and played basketball this winter. But mostly he loves books and video games, particularly when dragons are involved.

Sam is 10 and catching up fast from the fifth grade. She loves playing piano and flute and sings every chance she gets.

Deb's in school for a counseling degree and the BTGH is a roller coaster of fun (and regular travel) for Steven. Together, we've been teaching a marriage-enrichment seminar around town this year, and celebrated our 20th anniversary in November!

We also all dressed up for our church's walk-through Christmas pageant, hence the colorful attire.

We thank God for a good year, and wish you God's blessings in the New Year!

Merry Christmas!
